

The green color indicates, the gas value is very below the threshold value, thus there is no harm.

The Yellow color indicates, the gas value is on threshold.

The red color denotes it crosses the threshold value, hence gas leakage is detected.